HDR's Schulze to Lead South Central Area Rail Marketing, Operations

(FORT WORTH, Texas, November 14, 2008)—Dennis Schulze of HDR's Fort Worth office has been named South Central area rail leader. He previously served as Fort Worth marketing manager.

In his new role, Schulze will focus on marketing and delivering rail service throughout the South Central area. He will also be responsible for overall rail operations and will serve as principle-in-charge on all South Central rail projects.

Schulze will be working with HDR's national rail and transit programs, as well as the South Central area marketing teams to formulate a rail marketing/operations plan with a goal of doubling the area's rail practice within the next two to three years.

A licensed professional engineer, Schulze has more than 22 years experience in the industry, the last 11 years with HDR. He holds a bachelor of science in civil engineering from Texas A&M, College Station, and a master of engineering in civil engineering from the University of Texas at Arlington.

HDR is an employee-owned architectural, engineering and consulting firm with more than 7,500 professionals in more than 165 locations worldwide.
